KPI-Chat is the future of collaboration

Bring actionable insights back to your Business Intelligence and Analytics Platform by integrating communication where it belongs: directly with the data.

Nowadays, tools focus on performance, enhanced possibilities regarding Analytics and bringing the right information to the right people – which is an awesome development! But in the end, that is where the magic stops: screenshots are taken and enriched, report pages are printed, or data is extracted to answer questions and sharing insights – effectively breaking the platform.

As simple as „Whatsapp“

KPI-CHAT enables knowledge workers to communicate where insights are valued most - within reports and dashboards - by enriching analytical results and delivering actionable insights.
